Virginia Food Crop Donation Tax Credit

Instructions for the FCD-1 and FCD-2

General Information

For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2016, but before January 1, 2022, any person engaged in the business of farming as defined under 26 C.F.R. § 1.175-3 who donates food crops grown by the person in the Commonwealth to a nonprofit food bank is allowed an income tax credit for the taxable year of the donation. The credit is equal to 30% of the fair market value of such food crops donated by the person to a nonprofit food bank during the taxable year. The maximum credit allowed for all such donations made by the person during the year is $5,000.

The total amount of tax credits available to all taxpayers for any fiscal year in the Commonwealth cannot exceed $250,000. If applications for this credit exceed the cap amount, the Department of Taxation will allocate the credits on a pro rata basis. Any credit amounts that exceed a taxpayer's liability can be carried forward for 5 years. Credits attributable to a partnership, S corporation, or LLC will be allocated to the individual partners, shareholders, or members in proportion to their ownership or interest in the business entity.

To the extent the Food Crop Donation Tax Credit is allowed, an addition to federal adjusted gross income in the case of individuals, or to federal taxable income in the case of corporations, is required for any amount claimed as a federal income tax deduction for the donation. See the applicable Virginia income tax return instructions for more information.

Definitions

- "Food crops" means grains, fruits, nuts, or vegetables.
- "Grown by the taxpayer" means that the donor was directly engaged in the growing of the food crop.
- "Nonprofit food bank" means an entity located in the Commonwealth that is exempt from taxation under § 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended or renumbered, and organized with a principal purpose of providing food to the needy.

Nonprofit Food Bank Requirements

Credit is allowed for food crops donated to a food bank only if:

- The use of the donated food crops by the donee nonprofit food bank is related to providing food to the needy;
- The donated food crops are not transferred for use outside the Commonwealth;
- The donated food crops are not used by the donee nonprofit food bank as consideration for services performed or personal property purchased; and
- The donated food crops, if sold by the donee nonprofit food bank, are sold to the needy, other nonprofit food banks, or organizations that intend to use the food crops to provide food to the needy.

The nonprofit food bank must supply a completed Virginia Food Crop Donation Certificate (Form FCD-2) to the donor. The FCD-2 must be prepared and furnished by the nonprofit food bank to the donor within 30 days of the date of the donation.

Determining Fair Market Value

The nonprofit food bank is responsible for calculating the fair market value of the donated crops and reporting it on the Form FCD-2. There are two ways to determine the fair market value of donated food crops:

Federal Approach - a determination based on a consideration of the facts and circumstances connected with the donated food crops. This includes factors such as the desirability, use, and scarcity. Using this approach, the nonprofit food bank will determine the price which the donor would have received if the crops were sold in the usual market at the time and place of the donation and in the quantity donated. The fair market value used to claim the Food Crop Donation Tax Credit may not exceed the fair market value reported by the donor for the purposes of the federal charitable deduction before the reductions contained in IRC § 170(e).

If the federal approach is unduly burdensome, the nonprofit food bank may use the average price approach to determine the fair market value:

Average Price Approach - a determination based on the average wholesale market price published by the U.S. Department of Agriculture Market News Service for the food crops donated in the nearest regional market during the month in which the donation is made. The average wholesale market price must be determined without consideration of grade or quality of the food crop and as if the quantity of the donated food crop was marketable.

The nonprofit food bank may use the approach that is least burdensome in determining the fair market value.

When to Submit

All applicants must receive certification from the Department prior to claiming the credit. All applications for certification must be filed by February 1 of the year following the taxable year in which the donation was made. If the tax return upon which this credit will be claimed is due on or before April 15, you may need to either submit an extension payment for any tax due or file an amended return once you have received the credit certification. Please see Forms FCD-1, FCD-2, and accompanying instructions available on the Department's website, www.tax.virginia.gov. For assistance, call (804) 786-2992.

IMPORTANT

All business taxpayers should be registered with the Department before completing Form FCD-1. If you are not registered, complete Form R-1.

What to Enclose

To allow us to process this application, the applicant must provide the following:

- Form FCD-1 completed by the donor
- Form FCD-2 completed by the recipient nonprofit food bank. If donations were made to more than one qualifying nonprofit food bank, a Form FCD-2 is required for each organization to which food crops were donated.

NOTE: If donating to more than one nonprofit food bank, the donor must submit only one Form FCD-1 and enclose Form(s) FCD-2 to the completed application.

What to Keep

You must retain timely and accurate records to prove that you are eligible for this tax credit for the amount claimed. For example, retain any records necessary to show how the nonprofit food bank determined the fair market value of any food crops donated. Do not submit these records with your application. If you are ever audited, you will have support showing that you are eligible for this tax credit.

Where to Submit Application

Submit Forms FCD-1, FCD-2, and any enclosures to the Department of Taxation, ATTN: Tax Credit Unit, P.O. Box 715, Richmond, VA 23218-0715 or fax it to (804) 774-3902.

What to Expect from the Department

If the Department needs additional information, we will contact you by March 1 and you will have until March 15 to respond. If you have not received acknowledgement of your application by March 15, call (804) 786-2992. The Department will issue the credit by April 1. If you have not received your credit certification by April 15, please call (804) 786-2992.

What Does the Taxpayer Need to Do?

Upon receiving notification of the allowable credit amount, taxpayers may claim the allowable credit amount on the applicable Virginia income tax return. Taxpayers who do not receive notification of allowable credit amounts before their Virginia income tax return due date may file during the extension period or file their regular return without the credit and then file an amended tax return after receipt of notification of the allowable credit amount. See the instructions of the applicable tax return for additional information about extension periods and amended returns.

To claim the tax credit, a corporation must file Schedule 500CR; an individual must file Schedule CR; and a pass-through entity must file Schedule 502ADJ.

Pass-Through Entities

Each pass-through entity must file Form PTE with the Department within 30 days after the credit is granted. This information should be sent to: Department of Taxation, ATTN: Tax Credit Unit, P.O. Box 715, Richmond, VA 23218-0715 or you may fax it to (804) 774-3902. Please do not do both. Credit must be allocated among owners in proportion to each owner's percentage of ownership or participation in the pass-through entity. All pass-through entities distributing this credit to its owner(s), shareholders, partners, or members must give each a Schedule VK-1, Owner's Share of Income and Virginia Modifications and Credits.

Where To Get Help

Write to the Department of Taxation, ATTN: Tax Credit Unit, P.O. Box 715, Richmond, VA 23218-0715 or call (804) 786-2992. Without a postmark, the date received by the Department will be used to determine if the application was received by February 1.
